Conquer Childhood Cancers

Quinn Lisak is in 8th grade. He loves baseball and would love to play in the majors some day! In 2017 he was diagnosed with acute lymphoblastic leukemia (ALL). He is currently going through chemo and recovering from complications after an infection.

Mason Earley is in 6th grade. He loves swimming and music. In July of 2014 he was diagnosed with a brain tumor on his optic (eye) nerve when he had vision changes. He has undergone several rounds of chemo. He is scheduled for an MRI early March to determine the next step of his treatment.

Ellie Cuiching is a freshman. When she was 6 years old she had her first brain surgery for a very large tumor near her brain stem, a Pleomorphic Xanthoastrocytoma (PXA). Last fall she auditioned for America's Got Talent. In the meantime she had to have ANOTHER brain surgery. She has a beautiful voice and we want to help Ellie stand and sing again!

All 3 of these kids have amazing attitudes and beautiful smiles.
Help Quinn, Mason, Ellie and others with pediatric cancer give the fight of their lives!
